DESCRIPTION Hideal Partners is a well established M&A and financial advisory business, which provides specialist independent advice to industrial companies, financial investors, business owners and developers. Hideal Partners' core advisory team consists of multi-disciplinary professionals with backgrounds in finance, industry, engineering, banking, law, tax and accounting. Many of them have worked together for almost two decades, providing clients with continuity and seamless transaction support and advice, that has lead to an impressive track-record of successfully closed deals. Clients benefit from the substantial expertise that the team has gained in the fields of advisory, principal investment, structuring, financing, project development, contracting and asset management. This has resulted in significant operational experience across several sectors, including renewable and conventional energy, social infrastructure, water, gas and transportation. Hideal Partners' list of clients includes: banks, institutional investors, public and private companies, investment funds, project and business developers and start-ups. The scopes of services offered to such clients include: full M&A (buy and sell-side advisory, transaction origination and support), debt structuring and raising, equity placement, project development assistance, due diligence, financial modelling, ongoing business support and asset management.
